A Leap of Faith Book Campaign Aims to Reach One Million in One Year

Leading personal and professional development expert Ken Brown International (KBI) announces the launch of its A Leap of Faith Book Campaign. This campaign creates a national joint effort to eradicate poverty within communities, promote higher education, and teach students to take ownership of their future. With a national high school dropout rate at 9% and the average annual earning for a high school graduate being less than $30,000, our youth need guidance and direction. A Leap of Faith merges the strength of businesses, foundations, churches, and organizations willing to invest in tomorrow's leaders.

Through the one year campaign, KBI Founder - and A Leap of Faith author - Ken Brown, hopes to distribute one million copies of his book to students nationwide. His hope is to inspire tenacity, increase their motivation, and encourage them through daily struggles. In A Leap of Faith, Brown shares his compelling journey from poverty to prosperity. This book teaches others how to face life obstacles with a sense of a purpose. Brown hopes his readers become lifelong learners through the principles he discusses, which also teach people how to plan effectively.

To mobilize this campaign in your area, please contact Ken Brown International at (480) 357-7622. Copies of the book can be purchased for $20.
